Open Gov Regional Manager Greg Balter and Solutions Engineer Mark Welch gave a presentation about Open Gov. They work with over 1,000 agencies to develop a reporting and transparency platform for budgeting and planning, accounting, permitting, licensing, and code enforcement, and the firm provides a citizen portal. This platform includes reporting & analytics, dashboards, stories, open town hall, and data management in an easy to read format. This program also has an integration with MUNIS that is polled nightly. The goal of their system is to make data driven decisions that are easy to read for government users as well as constituents. This also provides needed transparency between government and the public. The program is an annual subscription that allows for network updates every two weeks.
